

LTC (R) Leticia M. Walpole

Keynote Speaker · Retired U.S. Army Lieutenant Colonel
Author · Guinness World Record Holder

Change the way you think to conquer a life that once seemed impossible.

From Ciudad Nezahualcóyotl, Mexico, to more than 33 years of service in the United States Army, Leticia Walpole brings audiences a powerful true story of resilience, discipline, faith, leadership and purpose.

A story that does not fit in one label.

Leticia Walpole is not a generic motivational speaker.

She is a retired U.S. Army Lieutenant Colonel, immigrant, mother of five, author and Guinness World Record holder whose life has been shaped by hardship, migration, military service, motherhood, faith and leadership.

At 21, Leticia left Mexico with a dream: to build a better life, join the Armed Forces and obtain an education. She faced barriers of language, culture, immigration, finances and self-doubt — but she refused to let her circumstances define her future.

After more than three decades of service in the United States Army, deployments in global missions and a life tested by responsibility, sacrifice and discipline, Leticia now helps audiences understand one powerful truth:

Your circumstances may shape your story, but your mindset, discipline and faith can transform your future.

Why audiences remember Leticia

Retired U.S. Army
Lieutenant Colonel

More than 33 years
of military service

Deployed to Iraq, Afghanistan,
Kuwait and other global missions

Author of Yo, ¿un cactus?

Five university
degrees

Guinness World
Record holder

Fluent in three languages

Mother of five

Speaker for educational,
military, leadership,
women's and Hispanic audiences

"The life you were born into does not have to be the life you surrender to."

Signature Keynotes

Leticia's keynotes are designed for audiences that need more than inspiration. They need clarity, courage, discipline and a reason to take action.

KEYNOTE 1

Me, A Cactus?

How to Change Your Mindset and Conquer an Impossible Life

A transformational keynote about resilience, identity, discipline, faith and purpose.

Through her personal story, Leticia helps audiences understand that they are not defined by their origin, pain or circumstances, but by the way they choose to think, act and rise.

Best for:

Schools, universities, Hispanic Heritage events, community organizations, leadership events, faith-based audiences and resilience programs.

Audience takeaway:

A renewed belief that transformation is possible when mindset, discipline and purpose align.

KEYNOTE 2

The Power of a Woman Who Refused to Give Up

Leadership, Inner Strength and Purpose for Women Ready to Rise

A powerful keynote for women who have faced rejection, pressure, responsibility or self-doubt.

Leticia shares her experience as a Latina immigrant, mother of five and military leader to inspire women to reclaim their voice, strengthen their confidence and live with purpose.

Best for:

Women's leadership events, Latina leadership audiences, women veterans, universities, professional organizations, community groups and faith-based women's events.

Audience takeaway:

Strength does not require losing your heart, your values or your purpose.

KEYNOTE 3

Discipline That Transforms

Life Lessons from a Military Career

Based on more than 33 years of service in the United States Army, this keynote shows how discipline, service and purpose can transform identity, character and future.

Leticia shares leadership lessons from military life, global missions and high-pressure environments, helping audiences understand that discipline is not punishment — it is preparation.

Best for:

Military institutions, veteran organizations, ROTC/JROTC programs, schools, universities, youth leadership programs, recruitment and retention programs, corporate teams and leadership events.

Audience takeaway:

Discipline is the structure that turns dreams into mission-driven action.

Ideal for

- Corporate leadership events
- Universities and colleges
- High schools and youth leadership programs
- Military and veteran organizations
- Hispanic Heritage Month events
- Women's leadership conferences
- Latina leadership events
- Community organizations
- Faith-based and purpose-driven events
- Team-building and leadership development events

Bring Leticia Walpole to your next event.

If your audience needs a speaker who brings real-life experience, emotional impact, military discipline and a message of hope, Leticia Walpole delivers a keynote they will remember.

Her message does not end when the applause ends.

It stays with people.

It challenges them to think differently, act with purpose and stop waiting for perfect conditions to begin.

Speaking Inquiries:

info@leticiawalpole.com

Website:

www.leticiawalpole.com

Location:

San Antonio, Texas

Represented by:

Heroes Speak Bureau

Book Leticia for Your Event

Yo, ¿un cactus?, Leticia's Spanish-language autobiographical book, is currently being prepared for release on Amazon USA.